Course Outline

See the tentative schedule provided with this document

Teaching Methods

The primary teaching methods are lecture, discussion, case studies, exam, guest speakers, and student projects.

Reading the chapter and in-class discussions for each chapter before class is essential.

Class participation is mandatory which includes coming to class prepared (electronic textbook, paper, pencil, PowerPoint, other notes, etc.), or logging on, participating in problem-solving, general discussion, and all other class activities. Class lectures will be brief and will be based on the textbook material and PowerPoint presentations. The majority of class time will be spent discussing case studies.

Canvas

Announcements, assignments, and other resources for your use will be posted on Canvas. Regularly check Canvas for announcements and assignments. If you are having trouble accessing Canvas, contact Gorilla Geeks: geeks@pittstate.edu or 620.235.4600.

Students are advised to access, and review material posted including (and not limited to) PowerPoint presentations, notes, study guides, schedules, and other learning material. Grades will be posted to Canvas. Students should periodically check Canvas to find any new materials added by the instructor.

Attendance Policy

Class attendance is mandatory (If you have extenuating circumstances, please communicate those with me). Participating in all class activities is also required which includes coming to class prepared and completing the activities during class. Students are allowed 3 unexcused absences and the instructor reserves the right to DROP a student who exceeds this limit.

Please note coming to class but not participating may be counted as an unexcused absence. If there is inclement weather and the university closes, there will be no remote class. If there is inclement weather and the university is open, there will be class.

There will be NO make-up exams. Arrangements must be made before the day of the exam to take the exam early. The format and content of the “early” exam may be different than the one given in class. In the event of an emergency preventing a student from taking an exam, the instructor is to be informed as soon as possible and will determine if a makeup exam will be allowed, based on the circumstances.

At times, college-sponsored events conflict with exams. An example of a college-sponsored event is a student who is a football player leaving with the team for a game. In this case, I will require a note from the coach or other university person of authority. Fraternity Frisbee tournaments are not a valid reason to miss an exam. Inform me a week in advance of the exam date if there is a conflict. I determine if the absence is for a valid reason.

Classroom Conduct

Employers of our graduates frequently tell us that professionalism, writing skills, ethics, and accountability are high on their list of qualities they seek in potential employees. In order to help students, prepare for a professional career, professional conduct will be required in the classroom, including the following requirements:

1. Mutual respect is required at all times.
2. No cell phone should be used in the classroom. Turn off or silence the cell phone. No texting.
3. Computers and tablets may be used during class time, but they should be used only for class-related work and should not be used in such a way as to negatively impact the ability of others to focus on class lectures or discussions. If this policy is violated, this privilege will be revoked.
4. No reading of books, newspapers, or magazines during class except for class materials.

5. Arrive on time and be prepared for class. Each class period you should have your electronic textbook, in-class discussion read, the applicable PowerPoint presentation (Canvas), paper, pencil, and all other relevant items handed out in previous class periods.
6. Ask questions, ask questions, ask questions. If you are having trouble understanding something, if I am moving through the material too quickly, or if I say something that doesn't make sense to you, please stop me.

Communication

The best way to contact me is through email. You can expect a response from me typically within 24 hours from Monday-Friday. On the weekends, you can expect me to respond within 48 hours.

Writing and the Writing Center

If you struggle with expressing yourself in writing, contact the Writing Center @ PSU, located in AXE Library. This is a free service offered to all Gorillas. Contact them in time to allow you the opportunity to edit your work. They will conduct electronic consultations. Their website is www.pittstate.edu/office/writing_center. I suggest making an appointment early.

Exam Rules:

1. You will need to bring a laptop to class to take the exam. If you do not have one, please let the instructor know one week before the exam so arrangements can be made.
2. No talking, except with your instructor, during the exam.
3. No electronic devices. Students requiring language translations should bring paper dictionaries and be prepared to show the dictionary to the instructor.
4. No leaving the classroom during the exam unless excused by your instructor.
5. If you believe someone is copying from your computer, either cover your work or move to another seat.
6. Should you arrive late to the exam; you will not be given additional time to complete the exam.

Course Evaluation Methods

Guaranteed grade cutoffs: 90% - A; 80% - B; 70% - C; 60% - D; below 60% - F. If a student's final score is borderline, for example, 89.5%, the instructor will round up if the student has exhibited professionalism, had excellent attendance and demonstrated effort throughout the semester.

Exams: The exams may include any material from the textbook, whether discussed in class or not, and any additional material presented by the instructor in class.

All homework assignments have specific due dates and late assignments CANNOT be accepted.

Academic Integrity

All Pitt State students are bound by the academic integrity policies of the university as described and outlined in the current Syllabus Supplement. Please familiarize yourself with these rules and guidelines. In addition, as a course offered through the Kelce College of Business, students in this class are obligated to adhere to the college's Student Code of Ethics as outlined below.

Students pledge to:

Arrive on time, remain until dismissed at all class sessions, and notify instructors in advance of anticipated absences, late arrivals, or early departures whenever possible.
